

A PERFECT RUN

by Lea Becker

SYNOPSIS

Winning medals for Germany – that's the dream of Celia, Phillip and Umito. The teenagers are competitive athletes living at a boarding home in a small mountain village in Germany. Far away from their friends and families they train daily to make it to the very top of the podium.

As members of the National Snowboardcross team they fight through long and hard winter seasons. Races, exams and injuries – they master it all, while going through puberty. How many sacrifices does it take to build a successful athlete's career?
