

BARRICADE – PICTURES OF A FOREST OCCUPATION

by David Klammer

SYNOPSIS

For over a year the Dannenrod Forest in Germany was occupied by climate-activists, who lived in treehouses upto 30 meters high to protect it from clearing for a new motorway. From Oct 2020 the extraction by the police and the cutting of the trees started. The documentary BARRICADE follows the activists through their actions, their dreams and their music and is with them, when finally the last treehouses fell in the first week of December 2020.
