

BROTHERS

by Isabel Gruenwald

SYNOPSIS

The unusual symbiosis of two old brothers in a world where time has stand still. Since childhood Fritz and Heiner Zuber live together in their farming house in the North of Bavaria. Neither one of them ever had a family or went away for leading an individual life. They are as different as day and night. Fritz, a retired police officer, lovingly takes care of the household. Heiner, farmer and heir to the farm, prefers to be passive and reflect on the past. Ever since they live in constant silence. But it used to be different once...
