by Alexander Schnoor (Caboverdiano)

SYNOPSIS

Where are the Cape Verde Islands? Very few people know where they are. Alexander Schnoor is half-German and half-Capeverdeian and has never been to the Cape Verde Islands. Grown up in Germany, he never got in touch with Capeverdeian culture, therefore he had problems to feel associated to an ethnicity... He does not feel like a German, so he wants to find out if his other half matches the Capeverdeian character. In Hamburg he discovers a little community of Capeverdeians and get to know more about Capeverdeians. In the Netherlands he compares himself with a girl that is like him half-German and half-Capeverdeian and discovers similarities. Finally he travels for the first time to the Cape Verde islands and finds out what cultural roots lies inside him.
