by George Inci, Beatrice von Moreau

SYNOPSIS

A little boy who's destiny was to die during his birth deeply moved everyone who came in touch with him. His parents got to know this diagnosis four month before. In this autobiographical documentary they let us take part in their personal process. They interviewed their companions through this extraordinary piece of lifetime like friends, doctors, midwives, therapist and grief counsellor. The mother's loving poems are accompanied by the father's expressive images of nature which let us feel pregnancy in every fruit we see.

DEEPLY MOVED celebrates life in contemplation of death.
