

EBRAHIM

by Elliott McKee

SYNOPSIS

An 18 year old refugee lives a life of constant uncertainty. Having survived the journey to Europe, he now waits in a camp halfway between the home he loves and his new life in 'the promised land', which appears less promising with every passing day.

Teenager Ebrahim and his friends yearn for home-cooking. Passing time in a refugee camp limbo, their studies and futures are compromised by war-torn origins and bleak prospects in Europe.
