

FM EINHEIT + IRMLER: LIVE AT BERGHAIN

by Lucia Palacios, Dietmar Post (play loud!)

SYNOPSIS

"Fm Einheit + Irmler: Live at Berghain" is the title of the third film within the "play loud! (live) music series". It features two giants of German avant-garde pop music. Hans Joachim Irmler is the founding member of the krautrock legend Faust, inventors of industrial rock. FM Einheit is a former member of Einstürzende Neubauten and a recognized industrial percussionist. The historical encounter was captured by filmmakers Dietmar Post and Lucia Palacios in the style of Direct Cinema at the famous Berlin club Berghain. About FM Einheit + Irmler: FM Einheit was a key member of the industrial noise band Einstürzende Neubauten until he left the group in the mid-90s ('-boredom' was one reason for leaving, he says). Claiming to hear things other people wouldn't notice, he is always looking for particular sounds to fit his ideas and he usually finds them by behaving ferociously with industrial construction elements and various tools and devices. Einstürzende Neubauten concerts...
