

KAMAKIA – HEROES OF THE ISLANDS

by Jasin Challah

SYNOPSIS

In the sixties and seventies when tourists discovered Greece as a holiday destination, many emancipated northern European women visited Greece. When the Greek man noticed the difference between the foreign woman, the so-called 'xeni' and their own Greek woman, suddenly their sexual emancipation began. The Greek lover, the so-called Kamakia, was born. The puppet Kosta Rapadopoulos is talking to an old Greek man about the old times when they were young and full of love.
