

MARK LOMBARDI – DEATH-DEFYING ACTS OF ART AND CONSPIRACY

by Mareike Wegener

SYNOPSIS

A few weeks after 9/11, an FBI agent called the Whitney Museum of American Art and asked to see a drawing on exhibit there. The piece was by Mark Lombardi. Just months earlier, the artist was found dead in his studio. Although the official cause of death was documented as a suicide, there were many doubts. Using just a pencil and a huge sheet of paper, Lombardi had created an intricate pattern of curves and arcs to illustrate the links between global finance and international terrorism. This documentary is a dense portrait of Lombardi's life and work that examines how art can express universal truths that are reflected in our present.
