

MARY BAUMEISTER – ONE AND ONE IS THREE

by Carmen Belaschk

SYNOPSIS

As long as her strength allows, she works in her studio near Cologne, the scene of the first feature-length documentary film about Mary Bauermeister and her radically personal biography. The film tells the story of an exceptional artist, a visionary, a lover. Mary Bauermeister has lived her life self-determined and yet full of doubt. It is not difficult for her to talk about success and defeat in the same breath. Over a year, the artist offers insights into her life and work: observations at her home, an exclusive exhibition in New York, and – back in Germany – a destructive fire in her studio, a trip to the Atlantic as well as presentations of her works in Cologne and Berlin. These are the ingredients for an intimate film portrait that shows the highlights and downturns in her eventful life. This picture is complemented by memories of experiences that still shape her art and life today. The rich and in part unpublished personal film archive intensively documents her early...
