

NORA IS STILL ALIVE

by Martin Jabs

SYNOPSIS

Nora loves wasps and hates piano music. And Nora is going to die soon. This is what the doctors say, but Nora just seems to stay alive - despite her physical and mental disabilities, she now became 30, outliving her loving mother and grandmother. She has never realized their death - her brother, however, makes a film about the loss and turns out to be closer to his sister than he realizes himself. Spanning a time of five years, this 70 minute portrait traces the dramatic changes in this once lively family as Nora's cheerful character remains unaware of all and ever the happy same.
