

PLUG & PRAY - OF COMPUTERS AND OTHER HUMAN BEINGS

by Jens Schanze

SYNOPSIS

Will man go beyond biology? It's an age-old dream to create intelligent machines that equal their human creators. Computer experts all around the world, like Raymond Kurzweil and Hiroshi Ishiguro, strive to fulfill their bold visions. Meanwhile, of all people one of the pioneers of the computer age, Joseph Weizenbaum, strives against the limitless faith in the redemptive powers of technology.

A fascinating yet uncanny and sometimes grotesque journey into science reality.
