

POLIZEIAKADEMIE - POLICE ACADEMY BERLIN

by Moritz Schulz

SYNOPSIS

POLIZEIAKADEMIE - POLICE ACADEMY BERLIN follows the journeys of three people with diverse social and ethnic backgrounds as they navigate through the demanding training at Berlin's police academy over the span of a year. The documentary dives into relevant issues like systemic racism within German society and the police force, exploring the potential connections between police education and instances of police violence. It also highlights the need of cultivating a more sensitively trained police force and the far-reaching transformation of Germany into a migration society.
