

PROFESSION LOBBYIST. DEALING WITH POWER

by Oliver Göbel

SYNOPSIS

A precise documentary in which lobbyists are let to explain themselves. A conflicting experience for every viewer since. Political decisions are massively influenced by lobbyists. That's nothing new. But within the last years lobbying has become a presentable profession. In this documentary leading German lobbyists are let to explain themselves how they actually work, how they succeed, how much power is really given to them, how they legitimize their work and where the limits of their power are or should be. Watching these lobbyists you will also experience the power of their rhetorics on your own.
