

SCOTLAND'S WILD NORTH

by Sabine Pollmeier (PARNASS FILM)

SYNOPSIS

The far North of Scotland is a lonely world with more sheep than people. Characterized by dramatic landscapes and wild coasts. It is the world of the Highlanders. Life here can be tough but highlanders love their traditions and their way of life.

They are free minded spirits who make their living as crofters, farming sheep or as horse whisperers. Filmed in the unique Scottish landscape this documentary presents a fresh and new look at the Highlands beyond the clichés.
