

SHOULD WE ALL BE FEMINISTS?

by Silke Meya

SYNOPSIS

"Should We All Be Feminists?" looks at different Women's cultural, social, religious and political perspectives on role models and modern feminism in Berlin.

The documentary is based on contrasting women's perspectives meanwhile talking about kindness, respect, empowerment and equality in their personal life. The main goal was to dig deep and find the right balance between sorrow and happiness, while respectfully capturing each story through an intimate cinematography.

"Should We All Be Feminists?" is a shocking, moving and admirable glimpse into each protagonist's lived reality.
