

THE LAST GIGOLOS

by Stephan Bergmann

SYNOPSIS

If life was a Romantic Comedy this is the film that makes us want to celebrate it to the end! The last gigolos have gotten grey. But still they are gentlemen, perfect and suave to the sole. They spend their golden years on cruise ships – as dancers and entertainers for solvent ladies of 60 years and over who are hungry for amusement. Slowly and with a lot of humour, the film reveals that happiness is mainly down to everybody's individual skill and luck. Some will try and make their dreams come true. And some will never give up dreaming.
