

THE QUEST OF KALININGRAD

by Nina Irina Roerig

SYNOPSIS

Virtual Reality – that means in the Russian town Kaliningrad something else than only the world of games and digital illusions: People live here in at least two different levels of reality all the time: The old town Königsberg which is mostly invisible is existing as a second reality in their minds. Many cultural important people lived in Königsberg – such as Immanuel Kant and it seems, for them he ist still alive! Moreover, facing the modern ruin of a Sowjet Palace on the former place of the Königsberg castle, the visible seems less sure than the invisible in todays Kaliningrad.

A Professor, an architect, a writer, a worker, a student and a Gamer are starting their different searches, their personal Quest – as modern role games as well as the search for the Gral in the medievals is called. Their questions are universal. And maybe Immanuel Kant has something to say to us all one more time. Conduireamour, the medieval queen coming out of the Virtual Reality of games is...

CAST AND CREW

DIRECTOR Nina Irina Roerig

Germany 2018

95 min

FORMAL CATEGORIES

History, Social issues

ORIGINAL LANGUAGES

German, Russian

PREMIERE

Germany (2018)