

THE WEEK MANDELA DIED - A RAINBOW NATION DRIFTING APART?

by Beatus Buchzik, Florian Heinhold

SYNOPSIS

The day Nelson Mandela died, millions of South Africans took to the streets to celebrate his life. But now that their icon is gone, what will become of his legacy? From a family struggling to survive in their crime-ridden township neighbourhood to the inspiring story of a former Robben Island inmate who started a new life after years of torture and imprisonment during the Apartheid regime: This documentary takes the viewer on a journey to a South Africa full of contrasts and seemingly unbridgeable divides, so close yet so far from the country's famous beaches, safari parks and tourist attractions.

CAST AND CREW

DIRECTOR Beatus Buchzik, Florian Heinhold

Germany 2014

65 min

FORMAL CATEGORIES

Current Affairs, Conflicts, Politics, Travelling

ORIGINAL LANGUAGES

English

PREMIERE

Germany (2014)

FILM LOCATION

Südafrika

LINKS / REFERENCE

CONTACT

beatusbuchzik@gmail.com

<https://www.facebook.com/th...>