

TRAVELLING FOR BEAUTY

by René Schöttler

SYNOPSIS

Perceived 'too big' in her home country and currently confronted with the relevance of 'body' and 'beauty', author Tine Wittler travels to Mauritania – a country in the Sahara desert where fully-figured women are considered especially beautiful and force-feeding of young girls is still practiced. But how can this be? How can anything like an 'ideal' emerge in the first place, and what is it influenced by? How can I deal with the conflict of wanting to be 'beautiful' and wanting to be 'free'? And how do Mauritanian women cope with the topic of beauty in a country that still makes them having to fight for their rights and that is more and more influenced by global images of 'beauty'? – Tine's trip turns out a big adventure. Amongst the people she meets are a human rights activist, a famous singer, a philosopher. And Wafa – a very special person with her own mind and her own wisdom... A film about real beauty, the necessity of changing your perspective in order to learn, and...
