

WE BELONG HERE

by Elisa Iven, Erik Wittbusch

SYNOPSIS

The settlers in Israel they are feared and admired. In the eyes of the world they are fundamental terrorists, the ultimate reason why peace can not come to the Middle East. Just true or far from it? In Westjordan we met four graceful, witty people driven by the need to transcend every breath they take into a rendez-vous with Hashem. This God resides but in the sweet dreams of Israel as it can be visited in the Tora and not really anywhere else. Step by step, house by house, family by family this dream has to come true, has to become true flesh and stone... real home. Their longing for peace is real, their actions may result in war. The settlers, as cheerful or scary as they may seem, are the reflection of a tired people. Stubborn but without any sign of self-pity they tried to show us the absurdities of their lives. Contact; Erik Wittbusch Hermannstr. 22a 40233 Duesseldorf, Germany erik@wittbusch.de

Germany 2009

ORIGINAL LANGUAGES

English, German

PREMIERE

Germany (2009)

FILM LOCATION

Israel

CAST AND CREW

DIRECTOR Elisa Iven, Erik Wittbusch