

WHO'S AFRAID OF SIBYLLE BERG

by Böller und Brot Sigrun Köhler und Wiltrud Baier

SYNOPSIS

Sibylle Berg provokes somehow.

Her life story from GDR refugee up to bestselling author sounds mythical. Previously Sibylle Berg searched for good fortune, now she's looking for a house.

In this portrait of the great ironic dramatist we learn the male word for 'author', why they often have to hold their heads on author-fotographs, what kind of useful things (like diving under ice) you could learn in GDR, how fungi control the brains of politicians – and that behind every shy author there's a shy person.

With: Sibylle Berg, Katja Riemann, Helene Hegemann, James Goldstein, Olli Schulz
